

One-line summary

Soumya's instinct is right that v5 has a regime-blindness problem; the right fix is to fix the detector (1 week) and use regime as a feature (2 weeks), not build 4 specialist engines (9-15 weeks with high failure risk). The pattern Soumya described is the one industry has rejected; the pattern industry actually uses is what the research recommends instead.